It’s a great time to be at McCormick!

ANNUAL REPORT 2014
McCormick Theological Seminary encourages, embraces, celebrates, and prepares women and men from all denominations and backgrounds for Christian ministry and service, advancing a model of education that is Cross-cultural, Urban, Reformed, and Ecumenical.
Strength and courage are part of McCormick Theological Seminary’s DNA. We were not a seminary that took solace in the halls of privilege and comfort. Founded in 1829, McCormick was a seminary created on the frontier. First in Hanover, Indiana, before moving to the bustling metropolis of Chicago with a population at that time of just over 100,000, our seminary began in a log cabin with just a couple of professors and a handful of students, seeking to equip themselves for God’s mission in a rapidly changing world.

If we push the fast forward button almost 200 years, McCormick continues to lead and train leaders who serve on the cutting edge in the City of Broad Shoulders.

McCormick produces leaders. McCormick’s faculty has produced no fewer than nine Presidents, Deans, and Academic Deans in theological education over the past fifteen years. As was made public earlier this year, the Rev. Dr. David Esterline, who served as Academic Dean and Vice President of Academic Affairs and who currently is the Director for the Institute of Cross-Cultural Theological Education, was recently named the next president of Pittsburgh Theological Seminary. McCormick’s legacy of leadership continues.

This past year, we welcomed the Rev. Dr. Cláudio Carvalhaes to McCormick’s faculty. He brings with him a national profile of preaching, teaching, and worship leading. Dr. Reggie Williams’ first published book, Bonhoeffer’s Black Jesus: Harlem Renaissance Theology and an Ethic of Resistance continues to garner national attention. We will also be welcoming, in 2015, the Rev. Dr. Steed Davidson who will be teaching Hebrew Bible at the seminary. A new generation of faculty leaders has joined the McCormick legacy of leadership.

In the fall of 2014, we celebrated the leadership of the Rev. Dr. John Buchanan, Pastor Emeritus of Fourth Presbyterian Church in Chicago and a life trustee of the seminary, at McCormick’s inaugural Visionary Awards Dinner. At McCormick Days, the theme focused on honoring the ministry, teaching, and scholarship of Professor Emerita, the Rev. Dr. Elizabeth Caldwell. Our seminary also committed itself to the leadership of a new generation through the announcement of a major grant received from the Henry Luce Foundation to support the Center for Faith and Service. The Center is committed to fostering the leadership of young adults who seek to change the world through their commitments to justice and service. The Center announced last year its first class of Community Engagement Fellows, who have dedicated themselves to community service as a key component of their seminary formation.

For the 2014–15 Academic Year, McCormick instituted its first annual theme, “Peacemaking in the City: A Faithful Response to Urban Violence.” Through a series of lectures, discussion, and events, including a lecture from Alex Kotlowitz, who discussed his best-selling book, There are No Children Here: the Story of Two Boys Growing Up in the Other America, McCormick has engaged hundreds of people from the Chicago area on this topic—an issue that could not have been more timely given our nation’s current climate.

The Rev. Wayne Meisel, the Director of the Center for Faith and Service has coined a phrase that captures the essence of who McCormick is and has always been: “McCormick leads. Others follow.”

We are grateful for the leaders who are here, for the leaders that are trained within McCormick classrooms, for the trustees and donors who give to this mission, and for the leaders, our friends and alums, who serve the Church and society in faithful and bold ways.

In all of these things, we lead knowing that it is God who goes before us. That it is God who is with us. It is in this hope and with such sure knowledge that we move boldly and courageously into the work that God has given us to do.

Peace and grace,

"Be strong and courageous...for the LORD your God is with you wherever you go." – Joshua 1:9
2014 Annual Theme

McCormick launches its first-ever annual theme:

Peacemaking in the City: A Faithful Response to Urban Violence

The McCormick community dedicated the year to becoming more aware of the causes of urban violence, more informed about effective responses to it, and more committed to living out these responses. Some of the ways in which students, faculty, and staff explored this theme included reading a book together as a community, addressing the topic in events with featured speakers like Alex Kotlowitz, David Gushee, Jeremiah Wright, Jr., Cain Hope-Felder, and Martha L. Simmons. In addition, we are developing and offering service and learning opportunities with community partners.

The book we chose to read together, There Are No Children Here: The Story of Two Boys Growing Up in the Other America, by Alex Kotlowitz, is a moving account of two boys struggling to survive on Chicago’s west side.

McCormick selected this topic for several key reasons. Chicago’s south side is a part of McCormick’s identity and we are near many of the schools and neighborhoods that are plagued by gun violence. When high school student, Hadiya Pendelton was shot and killed so close to the seminary, because Hadiya was a classmate of children and grandchildren of McCormick staff members, conversations began to explore faithful ways McCormick could be part of the solution. The success of faith communities reaching out and planning events during the 2014 Memorial Day weekend to interrupt the violence inspired McCormick to continue these conversations and develop faithful ways McCormick can act to stem the violence in our community. As faithful Christians in south Chicago, this is an issue McCormick cannot ignore.

Chicago’s south side is a part of McCormick’s identity and we are near many of the schools and neighborhoods that are plagued by gun violence.
The Center for Faith and Service, led by Rev. Wayne Meisel, is an initiative to challenge and change the church to be present, relevant, and engaged with a generation that defines itself by its involvement in community service and commitment to social justice. The work of the Center’s Community Engagement Fellows toward this initiative involves:

Convening our counterparts at other seminaries through Seminaries that Change the World initiating a seminary student movement that leads the church and the nation into deep engagement that combines service, advocacy and social justice;

Creating new energy for theological education, particularly through the New Faces of Ministry Tour, which brings seminary and divinity school students around the country into conversation with service-minded young people;

Visiting and lifting up congregations that are engaging their local communities;

Reaching out to young adult volunteers and connecting them with supportive local congregations through our AmeriCorps Chaplaincy Program.

Engaging seminarians at McCormick and other seminaries and divinity schools in the Chicago area, with local and global issues affecting our communities at the intersection of faith and service.

The Center is currently supported by generous grants from Westminster Presbyterian Church in Minneapolis, the Henry R. Luce Foundation, and many individual donors.
McCormick Theological Seminary is grateful to the E. Rhodes and Leona B. Carpenter Foundation for a new grant to sponsor a special scholarship for a student who self-identifies as belonging to the LGBTQ community. The first student selected was D’Angelo Smith.

A Chicago native, his mother raised him in the Pentecostal church, which he described as “non-affirming.” In fact, D’Angelo had been deeply wounded by his church and for years had suppressed who he was. He said he “thought he was an abomination.”

D’Angelo describes his undergraduate study at Knox College as a dark period where he realized he couldn’t fight who he was any longer. At his lowest point he was very depressed and was kicked out of school. In the time he was away, he re-discovered the Bible, particularly Paul’s words in Romans 8:38-39, “For I am sure that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor things present, nor things to come, nor powers, nor height, nor depth, nor anything else in all creation, will be able to separate us from the love of God in Christ Jesus our Lord.”

Finally, overcome by a realization that God loved him just the way he was, D’Angelo was lifted out of his depression. He worked with college administrators, spoke with all of his professors and was reinstated, worked very hard, completed a Bachelor’s of Arts in Public Policy and the Arts, and went on to work on Obama’s campaign. He also discovered a more affirming church that allowed him to be a leader and used what he learned in college about theatrical expression. As Drama Team Leader at the City of Faith Christian Church, D’Angelo wrote skits that challenged members to deepen their faith, ask questions, and be active participants in their spiritual development.

It was during this time he revisited the call to seminary he had felt earlier. Before it had felt impossible to him. He had remained connected to some of his church family, including McCormick alumnus, Rev. Patrick Winfield, who is a campus pastor at the Potter’s House in Fort Worth, Texas. Rev. Winfield talked with D’Angelo about his call. He assured D’Angelo that McCormick would be the best place for him, and D’Angelo was captivated by McCormick’s cross-cultural, urban, reformed and ecumenical model. D’Angelo enrolled in our Master of Arts in Urban Ministry. After his first year at McCormick, however, he felt that he needed to go further and that the two-year master’s degree limited what he felt to be his call to ministry.

D’Angelo successfully transferred into the Master’s of Divinity program last May. Since coming to McCormick, D’Angelo has achieved academic excellence in his studies and has been very involved in the events of the seminary. In January of 2014, he participated in a travel seminar to the Holy Land led by Ted and Paula Hiebert. Today, he serves on the Student Council and is a student leader for our annual theme, “Peacemaking in the City: A Faithful Response to Urban Violence,” leading book discussion groups and helping to plan and coordinate events and publicity around the theme. D’Angelo continues to discern where his ministry will lead him and travels as a speaker and facilitator for workshops on using theatrical expression to advance social justice.
Nominated by fellow alumni, McCormick’s Distinguished Alumnus/a Award represents a deep and special acknowledgement of the importance and impact the nominees have had within the church and their role as Christ’s hands and feet in the world.

In 2014, we were pleased to honor both the Rev. Dr. Marshall Hatch (MATS, 1994; DMin 1998) and Elder Carol Wehrheim (MA, 1962).

The Rev. Dr. Marshall Hatch is recognized for his various roles within the community. He has been the Pastor of the New Mount Pilgrim Missionary Baptist Church located in the heart of Chicago’s West Garfield community since 1993. Marshall Hatch is a native of the west side. His spiritual development began in Shiloh Missionary Baptist Church under the pastorate of his father, the late Reverend Elijah Hatch. In 1985, he was ordained as a minister, and later in that same year was appointed as Pastor of the Commonwealth Missionary Baptist Church in North Lawndale. In August 2000, Marshall Hatch was appointed to be an Adjunct Professor on the faculty of McCormick Theological Seminary. In 2008, he was appointed adjunct professor of Urban Ministry at Northern Baptist Seminary in Lombard, Illinois. He is a sought after speaker and has won many prestigious awards.

Throughout his ministry, Marshall Hatch has launched community outreach programs. Most notable among these are the Westside Isaiah Plan, an interfaith affordable housing development project; an annual pilgrimage to Zimbabwe, Africa; an Illinois Department of Corrections and Cook County Jail visitation and correspondence program; Mountain Men Ministries and Enterprises; a Christian Sisters women’s ministry; a Substance Abuse Task Force; and the Pilgrim Community Development Corporation (Pilgrim Village).

Rev. Hatch has a history of civic involvement spanning over two decades. He served as the Moderator of the Friendship Baptist District Association, and served as the National Director of Religious Affairs of the Rainbow PUSH Coalition. He also serves on the boards of the Academy of Communication and Technology (ACT) Charter School and Christ The King Jesuit College Prep High School. He is a member Pastor Hatch has earned both a Doctor of Ministry and Master of Arts in Theological Studies, from McCormick Theological Seminary. He holds a Master’s degree in government from Georgetown University in Washington, D.C. and a Bachelor’s degree in political science from Western Illinois University in Macomb.

Elder Carol Wehrheim has been deeply invested and active in religious education in the Presbyterian Church (USA) and other Reformed churches and organizations for close to 50 years. In 2001, the Association of Presbyterian Church Educators (APCE) named her Educator of the Year.

Since 1982, Carol has worked primarily as a consultant, writer and editor. She has taught at the M. Div. level at Princeton Theological Seminary, as well as in their Continuing Education Program, and has led workshops nationwide and in Canada. In 2013, she was the keynote presenter for a combined educators group in the Midwest (GLAUCE-GLAPSE). Carol was the associate readability editor for the Common English Bible. She served as the general editor for the lectionary based curriculum resource that was part of the Feasting on the Word commentary series, which serves kindergarten through adults.

Carol has been publishing church related resources for educational ministry since 1975 and her list of publications is extensive and ecumenical, ranging from curriculum guides to two children’s Bible series; and from stewardship guides for parents, and children to guides for worship, and the sacraments. Carol wrote the study/action guide for Trigger, a film on gun violence.
sponsored by the Presbyterian Peacemaking Program (2013) and is under contract to write a book of Bible stories for use in congregational worship.

Finally, Carol has served the wider church, called to the Theology and Ministry Unit of General Assembly, PC(USA); the advisory board to the Thoughtful Christian; church school teacher for fifteen years, as well as Deacon and Ruling Elder at Nassau Presbyterian Church in Princeton, New Jersey. Carol demonstrates leadership and discernment as a Christian educator and makes exceptional contributions in ministry that will continue to have an impact for years to come. She represents McCormick’s commitment to preparation for ministry and service. Her undeniable sense of call makes her an effective witness in service to the church of Jesus Christ.

Cláudio Carvalhaes

Liturgy in Postcolonial Perspectives: Only One is Holy to be released June 11, 2015

McCormick welcomed Dr. Cláudio Carvalhaes to the faculty as Associate Professor of Preaching and Worship in July of 2014. Previously, Dr. Carvalhaes taught at the Lutheran Theological Seminary in Philadelphia as an associate professor of Liturgy and Worship, and at Louisville Presbyterian Theological Seminary. Carvalhaes is an ordained teaching elder within the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.)

The Dean of Faculty and Vice President for Academic Affairs, Dr. Ted Hiebert said, “Dr. Carvalhaes is recognized throughout the United States and in the larger global context as a leader and innovator in preaching and worship. He’s a compassionate and compelling teacher and a creative scholarly voice. We welcome him as an important and engaging conversation partner among us as we work to support and renew the church.”

In his book, Carvalhaes illustrates that the liturgical movement is at a new turn, continuing liturgical renewal with a twist, wrestling with what hasn’t been engaged yet, and issuing a call to expand itself into other connections and possibilities. This book brings Christian, Jewish, and Muslim scholars from different fields of knowledge and from many places across the globe to introduce and expand the dialogue between the field of liturgy and postcolonial/de-colonial thinking. The very plurality of the methodologies and approaches used here might be the best witness to the postcolonial/de-colonial theory. The essays of this book demonstrate its complexities, the ins and outs of imperial and colonial religious senses, reasons and practices. The hope is that this book will serve as another source for others to venture into new and traditional thinking, opening up the liturgical field into new territories, risky thinking, unseen dialectical/dialogical connections and uncharted waters.
Anna Case-Winters

Matthew, part of the series
Belief: A Theological Commentary on the Bible released February 9, 2015

Anna Case-Winters, Professor of Theology, joined the faculty of McCormick Theological Seminary in 1986. She is an ordained Presbyterian minister and has served churches in Georgia, Oklahoma, and Tennessee. In addition to being an inspiration to her students, she has published many books and articles during her time here.

Her latest book, a commentary on the Gospel of Matthew, speaks with eloquence and power. Among the Gospels, Matthew paints a fuller picture of the life, ministry, and teachings of Jesus. Anna Case-Winters’ incisive commentary reveals that Matthew is clearly a theological book. It is about God’s saving work in Jesus Christ. Moreover, it is presented in a way that easily lends itself to the task of teaching and preaching. Case-Winters highlights several themes that shape the distinctive portrait of Jesus this Gospel offers. Here we see Jesus facing up to conflict and controversy, ministering at the margins, overturning presuppositions about insiders and outsiders, privileging the powerless, demonstrating the authority of ethical leadership, challenging allegiance to empire, and pointing the way to a wider divine embrace than many dared imagine. Case-Winters captures the core of Matthew’s unique Gospel, which speaks powerfully to the life of Christian faith today in the midst of our own issues and struggles.

Reggie Williams

Bonhoeffer’s Black Jesus: Harlem Renaissance Theology and an Ethic of Resistance
released November 1, 2014

Dr. Reggie Williams joined the McCormick faculty in July of 2012 as Assistant Professor of Christian Ethics. Previously Dr. Williams was a full-time lecturer in the Religion Department at Baylor University in Waco, Texas. He has taught as Adjunct Faculty at Azusa Pacific University in Azusa, California. Williams is affiliated with the American Baptist Church.

President Frank Yamada said, “Dr. Williams brings us a wealth of teaching experience and teaching interests including the incarnational ethics of Dietrich Bonhoeffer and Dr. Martin L. King, Jr. He is a welcome addition to our faculty and his engaging teaching style will be valued by our students.”

In this book, Williams follows Bonhoeffer as he defies Germany’s religiously sanctioned race-hate with Harlem’s black Jesus. The Christology Bonhoeffer learned in Harlem’s churches featured a black Christ who suffered with African Americans in their struggle against systemic injustice and racial violence—and then resisted. In the pews of the Abyssinian Baptist Church, under the leadership of Adam Clayton Powell, Sr., Bonhoeffer absorbed the Christianity of the Harlem Renaissance. This Christianity included a Jesus who stands with the oppressed rather than joins the oppressors and a theology that challenges the way God can be used to underwrite a union of race and religion. Bonhoeffer’s Black Jesus argues that the black American narrative led Dietrich Bonhoeffer to the truth that obedience to Jesus requires concrete historical action. This ethic of resistance not only indicted the church of the German Volk, but also continues to shape the nature of Christian discipleship today.
McCormick Theological Seminary’s inaugural Visionary Awards Dinner co-chaired by Elizabeth Foster and Sara Pfaff, was held on Friday October 24, 2014, at the Casino Club in conjunction with the October Board of Trustees meetings.

McCormick honored the Rev. Dr. John Buchanan, Pastor Emeritus of Fourth Presbyterian Church of Chicago. Rev. Buchanan was honored for his work as editor of the Christian Century and former moderator of the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.), an author, speaker, and visionary leader in progressive Christian thought and ministry, nationally. The Visionary Award honors distinguished persons who embody McCormick’s core values and vision for the future, and are agents of transformational change.

Rev. Buchanan remarked, “I came to deeply appreciate McCormick’s distinguished history and its unique place in American theological education today. If there is one thing everybody knows for sure in this business, it is that in this rapidly changing environment in American culture and in the churches, that theological education faces new and unprecedented challenges… If ever there was a time for bold, innovative thinking with these, in many ways most traditional of institutions, it is now, today.”

The night offered a glimpse of the transformation McCormick has brought about in the lives of students, alumni, and faculty; the differences McCormick alumni are making in the world, and

how McCormick has equipped them for their ministry. About this, Rev. Buchanan also said that McCormick “is positioned beautifully, strategically to be a leader” in theological education, and added that he wondered “why anyone would want to study anywhere else.”

With over 240 guests in attendance, McCormick raised over $161,000 for its mission of nurturing women and men for the creative and relevant Christian ministry needed for the church of the future.

Our alumni/ae and dear friends who contribute time, money and resources have generously supported McCormick Theological Seminary. McCormick thanks the individuals, families, businesses, philanthropic organizations, foundations, and endowments that have helped us realize our vision in fiscal year 2013-2014.

We honor those who give and make our work possible—our donors. Some of our donors have left us gifts in their estates, some give endowed scholarships and faculty chairs, and some simply and generously give each year to ensure that McCormick continues to serve its students and the broader church in the cross-cultural, urban, ecumenical and Reformed way for which we are known.

Because of the support from our endowment, made up of gifts given by the earliest leaders of the institution, including the McCormick family, and through the generosity of our annual donors, we can keep tuition low and provide financial aid.
